

He also takes a random sample of 10 pipes produced by machine  $B$  and measures their diameters in cm. His results are as follows.

The diameters of the pipes produced by each machine are assumed to be normally distributed with equal population variances.

Test at the 2.5% significance level whether the data supports the inspector's claim. [9]

[illegible]